

Career Planning

California Career Zone – <http://cacareerzone.com>

The California Career Zone is a new web-based career information delivery system available to all Californians free of charge and provides self-assessment tools, descriptions and essential information on 900 occupations, current California Labor market information, and over 300 occupational videos.

Career One Stop – <http://www.careeronestop.org>

A source for employment information and inspiration.... This site offers tools to help job seekers, students, businesses, and career professionals. Sponsored by the US Department of Labor

Career Forward – <http://nroc.careerforward.org/careerforward>

The Career Forward is a self-contained online learning course that may be used to provide students with the opportunity to assess their career interests, explore career options, and create an educational development plan.

College Board Career Browser – www.collegeboard.com/html/careerbrowser.html

The College Board Career Browser allows students and parents to explore various careers and college requirements for chosen career paths

California Career Info – www.californiacareers.info

Cal CRN (California Career Resource Network) provides career development resources for California.

JobStar Central – <http://jobstar.org/jobstar.php>

A job search guide from your local public library – including an extensive listing of career guides.

Today's Military – www.todaysmilitary.com

Today's Military offers full-time and part-time training and opportunities for more than 4,100 different military jobs, and an environment for developing the essential qualities for a successful life.

Students.gov – www.students.gov

Students.gov is an official U.S. government web site designed for college students and their families. Their mission is to provide you with easy access to information and resources from the U.S. government including career development – all the info you need, in one place, from all parts of the government.

The Princeton Review – www.princetonreview.com/cte/quiz/quizoverview.asp

The Princeton Review Career Quiz is an introduction to how you need to know yourself before you can find that career that you really love.

The Keirsey Site – www.keirsey.com

The Keirsey Temperament Sorter is relied upon as the world's leading assessment for individuals, teams, and organizations.